WINDSOR
HIGH SCHOOL

IN DEDICATION
HOWARD TROUTMAN

We, the Pow Wow staff of 1981, dedicate our yearbook to Howard Troutman.

Howard's thirteen years of faithful, courteous service at Windsor High School were ones we couldn't have done without.

After all the high school's activities, Howard got the never-ending task of cleaning up our clutter.

We will miss Howard's smile and "hello," which always attended our learning.

The Pow Wow staff thanks Howard for his many years of diligent service.

The class of 1982 earned a helpful amount of money by selling magazines to friends, neighbors and relatives in the community. The money was needed for the prom which they held in the new high school gym, reviving an old tradition.

They enjoyed their year as juniors but are looking forward to ruling all as seniors.

The National Honor Society is an honorary group chosen by merit. Windsor High School regards this as a very important group. The W.H.S. faculty selects and votes on the most deserving students. The students are chosen for definite qualities. These are character, leadership, knowledge, dependability, and service. The single officer, president, is elected prior to the new members' induction, which is held in the spring.

Green Acres

The F.F.A. chapter had a busy and prosperous year. They expanded their work in many directions.

The continuation of the Project I.D. protection service was a big part of their work program. Farm crimes are an ever-increasing problem.

The annual B.O.A.C. (Building Our American Community) project was the aluminum can recycling program. Members got points for collecting these cans and bringing them in. Collecting these cans beautified our local community roadsides and saved one of our valuable resources, thus serving two purposes.

Product sales called for harder work because of inflation. However, success was still achieved.

The highlight of this year was to have Joe Maher, Illinois State F.F.A. President, speak at our annual March Banquet.

Good Times

The G.A.A. started the year with an organizational meeting in September. They elected officers and played various games. They also went bowling many times at Etog Bowling Lanes in Mattoon, skating at Sullivan, hiking and practiced basketball, volleyball, and tramp. Evening activities included Daddy-Date Night and Camp-In.

Money making projects included selling tee-shirts featuring all the teams in the National Trails conference. These were sold at the National Trails Tournament.

The Pep Club this year had festivities all week before Homecoming. The week started off with Blue and Gold Day and ended with the traditional Pancake Breakfast and Dress-up Day. The cooks this year were Coach Lowe and Coach Groothius. The highlight of the morning for the coaches came when the kindergarten came over to the high school for pancakes. The two coaches cooked silver dollar pancakes for the little ones. For the District Tournaments the Pep Club members made cakes for each of the varsity basketball and volleyball players.

When The Whistle Blows

FROM THE TOP: Eric Finley, Vice Pres.; Eric Luce, Pres.; Kirby Floyd, Treas.; Ed Carter, Points Rec.; Steve Bridges, Sec.; Gina Goodwin, St. Coun. Rep.; Mr. Groothius, Advisor.

The Industrial Arts Club started their second year associated with the AIASA. They sold candy at the varsity ballgames and used the FFA's popcorn machine for Jr. High and Frosh-Soph games.

The club decided to make crafts for the Cross County Mall's Spring Craft Show. The proceeds from this year's activities will be put toward a trip to Chicago or St. Louis. If trip costs rise outstandingly, the money will be used for badly needed shop tools.

The IA worked together with the Student Council to design and make the Booster Club signs for the new gym.

All The Presidents Men

Student Council was more than busy this year. School had barely started when its first money-making project was held: the car bash at the Harvest Picnic.

This year the Student Council began something new, the W.H.S. Booster Club. Local and area businesses could obtain a lifetime membership for a set donation. Membership included the business's name on a sign in the gym lobby. The purpose of the Booster Club is to put out money toward school-related activities. Some of the money was used in purchasing lights for the Scholastic Team.

The Council, with self-earned money, purchased a reflective dance ball to revolve from the ceiling at Homecoming and Prom. This gives the formal dances a classic touch.

The yearbook got off to a good start this year when the co-editors and the photography editor went to Eastern's journalism camp. Meetings were optimistic, and the staff worked diligently to meet deadlines, often with extra pages done. The staff wholeheartedly recognizes Mrs. Marsland and the hours she put in with them. Here's a thanks to her and the staff that worked so hard. Good luck to all of you!

The Windsor High School Band started out the year burdened down with the traditional problem of how to raise desperately needed funds for the annual band trip. The problem was solved by repeating last year's fruit sales. The band sold to the communities of Windsor, Gays, Mattoon, Shelbyville and Stew-Stras, to reach a total of over four hundred boxes of fruit. The band performed a homecoming show in which they covered man's progress in the field of transportation. The forms of transportation covered were the horse, the balloon, the sailboat, and the beloved automobile.

STANDING: Tracy Herbert, Don Spencer, Coach Oakley, Dan Herbert, Kirby Floyd.
KNEELING: Evan Hurst, Dave Owens.

Coach Tom Oakley established Windsor's first full-season cross country team this year. The six team members were the first to letter in cross country at Windsor High.

Coach Oakley praised the boys for their hard work and dedication in helping establish the program. Dan Herbert and Don Spencer were voted co-captains by their teammates, Tracey Herbert was voted most improved, and Don Spencer was voted most valuable.
